1. Introduction

This Labor Management Procedure (LMP) has been prepared for the ‘Maldives: Covid-19 Emergency Income Support Project’ to ensure compliance with Environmental and Social Standard 2 on Labor and Working Conditions (ESS2) of the World Bank’s Environmental and Social Framework (ESF) and the national legislation and regulations of the Government of Maldives. Accordingly, the purpose of this LMP is to facilitate the planning and implementation of the project by identifying the main labor requirements, the associated risks, and the procedures and resources necessary to address the project-related labor issues. The LMP sets out general guidance relevant to different forms of labor but also issues and concerns that relate to COVID-19 considerations.

2. Overview of Labor Use in the Project

In general, projects supporting COVID-19 response activities will include different categories of workers, some of whom will be engaged in activities that raise COVID-19 exposure concerns. As per ESS2, project workers can be classified into the following four groups: direct workers, contracted workers and community laborers. Due to the nature of the work that will be done in this project, direct and contract workers will be mostly used for the implementation. However, there may be potential use of community workers during the different phases of the project. However, since the purchase of equipment like phones and other materials under the Project will not be done on an “ongoing basis,” the category of ‘Primary Supply Workers’ will not apply.

The engagement of these different categories of workers is described below.

Direct workers

Direct workers will comprise project staff hired by Ministry of Economic Development (MoED) and civil servants from MoED; staff from National Social Protection Agency (NSPA), Ministry of Finance (MoF) and Maldives Monetary Authority (MMA). The project will be implemented by the Project Implementation Unit (PMU) of 10 staff members collectively from the Ministry of Economic Development (MoED), who is the lead institution— and from counterpart state-enterprises, including the Maldives Fund Management Corporation (MFMC), and Fahi Dhirulhun Corporation (FDC) for the day-to-day management and play a linkage role between MoED and the World Bank. The majority of PMU staff for the Income support project are contracted staff working for their respective agencies. This includes the contracted staff of the Ministry of Economic Development, Maldives Fund Management Corporation and Fahi Dhiriulhun Corporation (FDC).

Breakdown of all workers from the Project management team including support team:

Team	Number of workers
PMU	10
Project Activity Staff	16
Data Cleaning and Data entry team	4
Verification team	5
Authorization team	3
Total	38

Contracted Workers:

In order to ensure timely delivery of project components, part of the PMU team will be focusing on Component 3. Specifically Business Analyst, Project Officer, Financial Management Specialist, Procurement Specialist and a Project Coordinator will focus on Component 3.

There will be additional use of staff of the Island Councils who will provide support for the registration and outreach of the project. They will work in their official capacity as staff of each Island Council and will liaise with MoED in terms of assistance they will provide for the project. Some of these island council staff will be civil servants while others might be workers who are contracted by the island council on a term contract.

Under the restructuring, Certificate-level training courses will be provided to unemployed Maldivians through accredited Maldivian Education/Training Institutes¹. The courses to be offered are in accounting, information technology and tourism. The workers of these Maldivian Education/Training Institutes will conduct the training at their training centers. The Project will also finance apprenticeships for unemployed Maldivians in Maldivian firms and state-owned enterprises (SOEs) in priority sectors. The participating firms have already been approached by the PMU and confirmed their interest in participating. The staff at these SOEs and firms will provide on-the-job training for project beneficiaries. The Maldives Business Center Corporation (BCC) provide training on business planning and proposal writing, financial literacy, marketing and coaching for those receiving capital improvement grants to support entrepreneurship.

Breakdown of potential staff involvement of the Island Councils

Team name	Number of workers
179 island councils (1 staff to be assigned for this project)	179
Staff at Training/Education Institutions, state-owned enterprises (SOEs), Maldivian Firms and Maldives Business Center Corporation (BCC).	To be estimated
Total	179

The project's main platform, the Job Centre portal was developed by a third party. The Job Centre Portal was launched to provide a platform for job seekers in the Maldives. The Ministry of Economic Development has an existing retainer contract with the developer for the maintenance of the website. Through this existing contract and on voluntary basis, the developer has already made modification to the website to incorporate the job loss application. There may be further engagements with the developer during the course of this project.

Additional contract workers would be hired as consultants and contract staff for technical assistance activities under the project such as the Component 2.

¹ Prospective training providers will be required to meet minimum criteria established by the Project in coordination with the MEERY Project. Tentative criteria are set out in Annex 1. Continuation of accreditation will be subject to the provider meeting minimum standards and results targets.

Community Workers:

As the main objective of the project is income support, there may be engagements of workers/volunteers from different NGOs and Associations. The main role and responsibility of these workers would be to disseminate information regarding the project and the availability of this income support.

3. Assessment of Potential Labor Risks

This project does not involve any construction works and hence there are no major labor risks associated with the project. Depending on how the COVID-19 situation progresses in the Maldives, the majority of the work will be done via computer and phone and members of the different teams would be working from home, due to the current national health emergency lockdown. Yet, given the number and types of workers involved, the Project will need to consider labor risks and management issues. Some of the key labor risks associated with the Project include:

- Occupational health and safety: Though majority of the work for this Project is likely to be done remotely by teams working from home, there would be instances where staff of PMU, NSPA and MoED would be required to come to the office when processing of applications and when ICT systems are being upgraded. Thus, interactions in the office environment, may pose a certain level of health and safety risk associated with COVID-19 infection, especially if proper hygiene, safety precautions and social distancing measures are not adhered to.
- Labor and working conditions: Implementation of the project will involve a variety of workers from civil servants to island councils to volunteers associated with community groups, etc. Ensuring that the terms and conditions for these workers are in accordance with the requirements of national law and this ESS, will be important. Further, given the urgency to process a large number of applications in a short timeframe, the teams at PMU, NSPA, MoED would be at risk of stress, fatigue or burnout due to overworking to manage the excessive demand.
- Gender-based Violence (GBV)/Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (SEA)/Sexual Harassment (SH): Risks of GBV, SEA and SH may also increase as a result of increased interactions between the workers of island councils and community groups during home visits, especially for homes without any male presence. There are also risks of project workers being harassed by unhappy claimants while working at the call center or during the verification stages.
- Community health and safety: At the Island level, the staff of island councils, MED and other agencies, including members of community organizations, would be interacting with communities to inform them about the programme and support them to prepare the applications. These interactions would increase the risk of exposure to the virus for these workers and also the risk for the communities, especially the vulnerable groups.

Given below are more details of the potential risks and impacts associated with project activities:

4. Key Labor Legislation in the Maldives

Over the last decade or so, the Government of Maldives has enacted several laws and policies relating to working conditions, promotion of safety and health at work, fair treatment and non-discrimination, prevention of forced labor and child labor and protection of vulnerable workers. Key among these are:

- Employment Act of 2008,
- Regulation on Resolving Disputes between Employers and Employees (2011/R-12),

The Employment Act specifies the rights and duties of employers and employees. The Act prohibits forced employment, and discrimination in granting of employment, increase in remuneration, provision of training, determination of conditions and manner of employment, dismissal and resolution of other employment related issues; based on race, color, social standing, religion, political beliefs or affiliation with any political party, sex, marital status, family obligations, age or disability.

Terms and Conditions

Employment Agreement: All employers are required to enter into an employment agreement in writing, with their employees. The Act recognizes three types of employment agreements, which are, (a) fixed term contracts or agreements with a definite term, (b) agreements with an indefinite term or permanent employment agreements, and (c) agreements for a specific task or project. Direct workers or project staff in the PMU falls under this latter category.

Minors: The law considers a minor to be a person under the age of 18. Chapter 3 of the Employment Act allows minors between the ages of 16 and 18 to be engaged in employment, provided consent is obtained from their legal guardian. Minors under the age of 16 are prohibited from engaging in employment, unless it is as part of a training for their education. A minor may also be employed in a family business with the consent of such minor and their family.

Working Hours: No employee shall be required to work more than 48 (forty-eight) hours a week. This principle does not include overtime carried out in accordance with the Employment Act of the Maldives. No employee shall be required to work more than 6 (six) consecutive days a week (on a day that is normally a day off or has been agreed as a day off), without being provided with twenty-four consecutive hours of leave.

Dismissal: Employees have a right not to be dismissed unfairly, without cause. The Act provides a list of disciplinary measures that can be taken reasonably against an employee due to misconduct and which must ordinarily be exhausted before any dismissal.

Wages and deductions: Except for wages to be paid to a temporary employee, all other employees shall be paid at least on a monthly basis. Temporary employees shall be paid on a daily basis in general. However, the employer and the temporary employee can agree that such payments shall be made on a weekly, bi-weekly or monthly basis. Employees may be fined for absenteeism from work during official working hours, such fine to be deducted from his/her wages and to be commensurate to the time absent from work. No other fines shall be imposed by the employer on account of absenteeism.

Time for prayer: Every employee shall be allowed 15 (fifteen) minutes to pray during each prayer period in such a manner that it does not disrupt work. In the event that a 15 (fifteen) minute break for prayer, as specified in subsection (a) is not allowed, a fifteen-minute break shall be allowed every four consecutive hours of work.

Overtime Work: Employees shall not be required to work overtime except unless this has been agreed in the employment agreement. Any work carried out over time shall be subject to the requirements of subsection (b) and Section 38 of this Act. An employee working overtime shall be paid 1 ¼ times his hourly working wage as over time, and if working overtime on a Friday or a public holiday shall be paid 1 ½ times his hourly working wage as over time.

Occupational Health and Safety

Obligations of the Employers: All employers are obligated under the Act to take measures for the safety and protection of their employees, without any charge. These measures include:

- Provide a safe workplace environment and procuring of secure tools and machinery for carrying out work, and ensuring the continued safety of the same;
- Provide necessary PPEs and other protective gear as required
- Provide resources necessary to carry out the work with safety;
- Provide protective attire and equipment in the event that the nature of work is such that it is not possible to eliminate or control health hazards arising out of work;
- Provide education and training to employees on the use of protective gear and safety equipment, and disseminate information to employees on all issues of related concern;
- Conduct regular health checks for employees involved in any work that may cause physical ill health or for employees working with chemical or biological materials that may pose a threat to their health;
- Provide or arrange for appropriate medical care for employees injured during the course of their employment
- Facilitate first aid to employees who are involved in emergencies or accidents.
- Provide or facilitate with transport facilities to minimize the exposure risk

Obligations of the Employees: Employees are required to:

- Maintain safe practices at work to avoid danger to the safety and wellbeing of the employee and co-workers, which may be caused by inattentiveness to safety and security measures;
- Assist the employer and co-workers in maintenance of measures designed to ensure health and safety in the work place;
- Use safety equipment and protective gear as instructed in accordance with the training and education provided for use of such equipment and gear;
- Report to the employer any damage, loss of or destruction of protective gear or safety equipment;
- Inform the employer or his designated supervisor immediately of the occurrence of any incident which the employee believes may cause danger and which the employee is unable to resolve;
- Inform the employer or his designated supervisor of any accidents or damage sustained at work or related to work.
- Employees have the right to abstain from work where there is serious threat to health or life.

Collective Bargaining and Dispute Resolution

The Employment Act 2008 is notably silent on the right to strike or the right to form trade unions and lacks any provisions on collective bargaining; and even though Maldives remains party to the ILO Convention on Right to Organize and Collective Bargaining (No. 98), there is a lack of a specific legislative framework ensuring the right to organize and collectively bargain. Having said that, there are institutional mechanisms set up to ensure the rights, safety and security of workers as well as for dispute resolution.

Specifically, the Regulation on Resolving Disputes between Employers and Employees (2011/R12), issued by Labour Relations Authority outlines principles for employees to comply with in exercising the right to strike and abstain from work. The Regulation provides for a three-tier process to be followed in carrying out discussions between employers and employees, namely: (i) informal discussion between the parties failing which formal discussions are to be held at a sectional or departmental level; (ii) lodging grievances to a Grievance Committee made up of the head of the respective organization, heads of the relevant departments, and parties representing the aggrieved employee(s); (iii) Labor Relations Authority if the Grievance Committee fails to resolve the dispute. If either party is dissatisfied with the decision of the Authority, the matter can be submitted to the Employment Tribunal for adjudication.

International Labor Conventions

The Maldives is also committed to several international agreements and has ratified the Forced Labour Convention, the Abolition of Forced Labour Convention, the Abolition of Forced Labour Convention, the Freedom of Association and Protection to the Right to Organize Convention, the Right to Organize and Collective Bargaining Convention, the Equal Remuneration Convention, the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, the Minimum Wage Convention and the Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention. However, the Maldives is yet to ratify the three largest international standards that apply to foreign migrant workers, which are the ILO Migration for Employment Convention, the ILO Migrant Workers (Supplementary Provisions) Convention and the UN International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families.

5. Policies and Procedures for Management of Labor Issues Under the Project

This section sets out the mitigation measures that will be adopted by the project to address the risks mentioned in previous section, including those relating to specific risks to workers posed by COVID-19.

Terms of Employment

These provisions will apply for: Direct workers

- All project staff will be provided with an employment contract
- All direct project staff employed for the purpose of the project will be above 18 years.
- Maximum working hours for staff will not exceed 48 hours a week, unless otherwise stated in their employment contract in accordance with the Employment Act.

- Equal training opportunity will be available to all staff working in the project without discrimination, based on gender or otherwise
- All staff will be entitled to breaks from work of 30 (thirty) minutes after every 05 (five) hours during working hours; and prayer breaks 15 (fifteen) minutes during each prayer period in such a manner that it does not disrupt work. - All staff will be made aware of GRM available for the staff as specified under this LMP, and will also be able to lodge complaints to the Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee established under Prevention of Sexual Harassment Act (16/2014).

Note: Where government civil servants are engaged, they will be bound by their work contracts, and the provisions in this labor management procedure will not apply to that category of workers.

Terms and Conditions

These provisions will apply for: Contracted workers

- List of workers to be utilized in relation to the project, with proof of employment will be required to be submitted to PMU by all investors/contractors.
- As per the provisions of the employment, all parties employed by any contracted party will be above 18 years of age.
- All contractors and investors will be required to provide document evidence (passport, identity card or birth certificate) confirming age of employees to PMU prior to involving them on activities of the project.
- Maximum working hours for staff will not exceed 48 hours a week, unless otherwise stated in their employment contract in accordance with the Employment Act.

- All foreign parties employed by all contractors/investors will have valid work permit. The work permit details will be shared with PMU.
- All staff will be made aware of GRM available for the staff as specified under this LMP, and will also be able to lodge complaints to the Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee established under Prevention of Sexual Harassment Act (16/2014).

Note: Where government civil servants are engaged, they will be bound by their work contracts, and the provisions in this labor management procedure will not apply to that category of workers.

COVID-19 specific Occupational Health and Safety

These provisions will apply for: Direct workers, contracted workers, and community workers

- The health conditions of the workers will be assessed prior to engaging them in the Project, and sick workers will be refused entry to the office premises
- Entry/exit to site or the workplace will be minimized, and measures will be put in place to limit contact between workers and the community/general public
- Trainings for workers on hygiene and other preventative measures will be carried out, and a communication strategy for regular updates on COVID-19
- Adjustments will be made to work practices to reduce the number of workers and increase social distancing
- Procedure to follow if a worker becomes sick (following WHO guidelines), will be instituted and followed
- Adequate supplies of PPE (masks); hand washing facility, soap and/or alcohol-based sanitizer, will be made available at the office premises/worksites
- Allocate a separate enclosed space for isolation if a worker is found to be suspected of infection until that person is directed to a the medical facility for treatment.

While preparing the site-specific plans involving labor, the following guidance materials will be used:

- WHO IPC interim guidance: For guidance on infection prevention and control (IPC) strategies for use when COVID-19 is suspected
- WHO interim guidance on use of PPE for COVID-19: For rational use of PPE
- WHO guidance getting your workplace ready for COVID-19: For workplace-related advice
- WHO interim guidance: For guidance on water, sanitation and health care waste relevant to viruses, including COVID-19

Age of employment

These provisions will apply for: Direct workers, contracted workers, and community workers

The Employment Act considers a minor to be a person under the age of 18. Chapter 3 of the Employment Act allows minors between the ages of 16 and 18 to be engaged in employment, provided consent is obtained from their legal guardian. Minors under the age of 16 are prohibited from engaging in employment, unless it is as part of a training for their education. A minor may also be employed in a family business with the consent of such minor and their family. For those between 16 to 18 years of age, consent of the parent will be required as per the Employment Act.

Accordingly, all the provisions given in Chapter 3 of the Employment Act will also apply to direct, contracted workers and community workers involved in the project. Hence the PMU will review documentary evidence (passport, identity card or birth certificate) of all workers prior to involving them on activities of the project to confirm their ages. In addition, for minors, consent of the parent will be required in writing together with evidence of legal guardianship.

In case a project worker who does not satisfy the age limit is identified working on the project, the employer will be required to terminate the engagement of such a project worker in a responsible manner. Indicative approach may include:

- If the worker is over 16 years old and under 18 years, obtain parental consent as per the Employment Act.

- If the worker is below 16 years, offer a project employment to a member of the family who satisfies the age limit in exchange of keeping the under-aged worker away from work. If a family member who satisfies the age limit is not available, require the employer (using the contractual penalty provisions) to continue the wage payment to the underage worker without engaging in work for an agreed period.

Community Workers

As the main objective of the project is income support, there may be engagements of workers/volunteers from different NGOs and Associations. The main role and responsibility of these workers would be to disseminate information regarding the project and the availability of this income support. Based on the assessment carried out while preparing this LMP, there are no risks of child labor and forced labor associated with Community Workers under this project. But the Employment Act does not cover terms and conditions for community workers.

However, the project will comply with the provisions of the ESS 2 of ESF in regard to involvement of community workers. These provisions are in relation to: assurance of safety and health, promotion of fair treatment, nondiscrimination and equal opportunity, protection including vulnerable workers such as women, persons with disabilities, children (of working age, in accordance with this ESS), prevention on the use of all forms of forced labor and child labor, and access to workers' GRM established under the project.

Specifically, the following terms and conditions will apply to all community workers:

- Terms and conditions of voluntary work will not be more stringent than what the Employment Act prescribes for paid work in relation to working hours, rest breaks and leave days - these working arrangements, terms and conditions will be discussed, agreed with all community workers and minuted before commencement of any community activities.
- Measures to address liability issues in relation to sicknesses and accidents during community work will be discussed, agreed & minuted.
- No community workers under the age of 18 will be able to volunteer (evidence for proof of age will be required).
- The community workers will have access to the Labor Relations Authority, the Labor Tribunal and the Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee as per the Employment Act of the Maldives.
- All community workers will also be trained on and follow the general and COVID-19 specific Occupational Health and Safety measures & Codes of Conduct.

6. Responsible Staff

The project will be implemented by the PMU housed within the Ministry of Economic Development, and will consist of: (a) one Project Director, (b) one Deputy Project Director, (c) one Procurement Specialist, one Consultant and one Manager, (d) one Financial Management Specialist, one Manager and one Officer, (e) one Environmental and Social Specialist, two E&S Managers and one Officer. While the PMU and the Project Director will be responsible for the overall implementation of this LMP, the focal person for labor-related issues will be the Environmental and Social Specialist for the Project.

Specifically, the PMU will have the overall responsibility of:

- Implementing these labor management procedures;
- Ensuring that the provisions in the LMP as they apply for the direct workers, contracted workers, community workers, are adhered to
- Monitoring compliance with occupational health and safety standards at all workplaces, including the additional measures put in place to prevent COVID-19 spread
- Ensuring that the grievance redress mechanism for project workers is established and implemented and that workers are informed of its purpose and how to use it;
- Have a system for regular monitoring and reporting on labor and occupational safety and health performance; and
- Monitoring implementation of the Worker Codes of Conduct.

7. Grievance Redress Mechanism (GRM)

The workers associated with the project will be able to lodge their complaints, concerns, difficulties to the Workers' GRM established for the Project. The focal point for the GRM will be a designated officer from the E&S team of the PMU. Management will treat grievances seriously and take timely and appropriate action in response. Information about the existence of the grievance mechanism will be readily available to all project workers (direct and contracted) through notice boards, the presence of "suggestion/complaint boxes", websites, emails, and other means as needed. Different ways in which workers can submit their grievances will be allowed, such as submissions in person, by phone, text message, mail and email. Contract workers will be informed of the grievance mechanism at the induction session prior to the commencement of work, and the contact information of the GRM focal person and the PMU will be shared with contract workers.

In addition, workers associated with the project will also have recourse to the national appeal process:

- Labor Relations Authority with complaints submitted through: <https://lra.gov.mv/submit-a-complaint-form/>
- Employment Tribunal for adjudication
- Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee established under Prevention of Sexual Harassment Act (16/2014).
- Judiciary system of the Maldives which essentially is a legal system accessible to all aggrieved persons.
